

Rake the bunkers when you're done.....

.....it is always the right choice

In medieval times they would rake folks over the coals for transgressions against the church. Keep in mind the Scots did not play on Sundays for a long time.

So remember to bend over and fix your ball marks and don't leave a bunker looking like this...no matter how much you toiled in the bunker.

Avoid the third-degree burns or worse, losing your privilege to play our courses.

Leave the course how you found it-it is proper golf etiquette and the right thing to do.
